BREED THEATER

"The Indian Trailer," Thrilling Western Motion Picture.

A decided hit at the Breed theater this week is the big western picture, "The Indian Trailer." It is a thrilling story of a Greaser's revenge, including the abduction of the ranchman's daughter, the subsequent discovery of the fact, the hot chase, the securing of the Indian trailer, and the final roundup of the villain, all going to make one of the best cowboy pictures seen here in a long time.
The balance of the bill includes such pictures as "The Sand Man," "Little Miss Muffet," "The Way to Happiness," "Eddie, the Real Live One," "Officer McCus," and "Mr. Inquisitive."
The pretty duo by Madame Morelle and Miss Bradley, entitled "The Petrel's Cry," is a delightful number, as is the Italian high class song, "Light Divine," sung by Madame Morelle.
Mr. Delaney is featuring one of those quaint ballads of the Highlands, entitled, "Good-bye, Jean," being one of the sweetest ones in his class.

LADIES' SHIRT WAIST

Paris Pattern No. 2750 - All Sizes Allowed.

This model is developed in materials such as crepe de chine, cotton crepe, French batiste, Persean, or Victoria lawn or thin washable silk. The fullness of the front is distributed in groups of narrow backward turning tucks four or five to each group, and to give depth, the groups are separated by narrow insertions of embroidery, lace, hand-stitched ruffles or, in fact, any of the trimmings the wearer considers suitable. The center-front box-pleat under which the waist closes is trimmed with embroidery bands, and which has a narrow edging on either side matching the insertion. The high collar is trimmed with insertion and finished with a full ruche of chiffon or washable ruche, according to the material used to develop the waist. The back also has the fullness distributed in tucks, but these are attached to the waist line, a slight gathering at this point holding them in position. The sleeves are a new model which are very attractive and easy to make, being rather tight fitting, in accordance with the prevailing style. The slight fullness at the lower edge is put into cuffs, attached to cuff depth, the edge being finished with a narrow ruffle of lace or embroidered edging. These sleeves are fastened with very small pearl buttons and tumbler, through cord loops may be used if desired. The waist may be developed in a simple and simple everyday wear without the insertion, the collar and lower edges of the sleeves being trimmed with a narrow banding of the same or a contrasting color of gingham or linen.
The pattern is in seven sizes—32 to 44 inches, bust measure. For 36 bust the waist requires 3 1/2 yards of material 20 inches wide, 3 1/2 yards 27 inches wide, 3 1/2 yards 36 inches wide or 2 1/2 yards 42 inches wide, 4 1/2 yards of embroidery banding, 3 1/2 yards of insertion and 1 1/2 yards of edging.
Price of pattern, 10 cents.
Order through The Bulletin Company, Pattern Dept., Norwich, Conn.

Work of Head and Hand.

The head and the hand constitute the winning forces in life. Man comes to his kingdom through the instrumentality of their combination.

Clear Brain Above All.

Only a clear brain can guide the hand to exert its cunning for the benefit of its owner and the good of mankind.

About Medical Advice.

About the only kind of medical advice that counts is the kind you pay the doctor for.—Detroit Free Press.

Beauty and Truth.

Beauty is truth, truth beauty; that is all ye know on earth and all ye need to know.—Keats.

Errors Unavoidable.

To conduct great matters and never commit a fault is above the force of human nature.—Plutarch.

Family Wealth to Our Children.

The power of perpetuating our property in our families is one of the most valuable and interesting circumstances belonging to it, and that which tends the most to the perpetuation of society itself. It makes our weakness subservient to our virtue; it grafts benevolence even upon avarice. The possession of family wealth and of the distinction which attends hereditary possessions are the natural securities for this transmission.—Burke.

Three Excellent Reasons.

Richard Grant White once said that a radical reform in English spelling is, first, unnecessary; second, undesirable, and, third, impossible, thus recalling the story of the old Scottish preacher who, upon meeting one of his hearers after the services, inquired how he liked the sermon. "I didn't like it," he said, "for three reasons—first, ye read it; second, ye didn't read weel; and, third, it wassna worth readin'."

Blessings of a Diet.

Nowadays it's a godsend for a man to get rheumatism. Instead of filling him up with salicylic acid, iodine of potash and other atrocious to tear out his insides, intelligent physicians put him on a diet. When they cure him of being a hog they cure him of his rheumatism and everything else from a murderous liver to the disposition of a fiend.—New York Press.

To Relieve a Cold.

For cold in the head try inhaling medicated steam, procured by adding half a teaspoonful of fir balsam to a jug of boiling water. Fold a towel round the mouth of the jug, leaving a small aperture in the center to allow the steam to escape, and take long, deep breaths of it into the lungs.

What He Does.

"Johnny," said the teacher, "can you give us a definition of the word speculation? Let us suppose, for example, that your father has $500 and that he decides to buy several thousand bushels of what he never expects to really see or possess. What does he do?" "He loses his $500."

Sure of Himself.

The opposing candidates resorted to blows. Friends rushed in to separate them. Each struggled to get at the other. Candidate No. 1, seeing the extremely violent efforts of Candidate No. 2, cried out: "More of you men hold Swanson! One man can hold me!"—Everybody's.

A True Sport.

Small Boy (to his pale-faced aunt in field)—What, auntie, afraid of that cow? All you have to do is to act the way they do in a bull fight. Just wave your red parasol at him, and when he dashes up jump lightly aside. It's dead easy.—Life.

He Had.

"Excuse me," said the new barber, when Mr. McGargie was seated in the chair, "but have you a mug here?" "Oh, yes," replied McGargie. "Ye'll find it at the top of my neck, ferrest th' back of my head."

Said Uncle Silas:

"Why in thunder is it that a down-pour of rain which would flood a feller out on prayer meetin' night is counted only a little sprinkle on theater-goin' night?"—Los Angeles Express.

Discouragement.

"So you have bought a horse?" "Yes. The doctor said riding would give me an appetite." "Does it?" "Certainly. But what's the use? By the time I get through feeding the horse I can't afford to eat."

Mystifying.

Some men find it very hard to understand why any beautiful young widow should insist on living comfortably on the life insurance left by her husband.

Something New.

An odd alarm clock is in the shape of an exaggerated watch. The stem is fitted with a ring, as in the case of the pocket timepiece, and can be hung up by means of this on a hook or peg.

Lincoln's Longing for Peace.

I hope peace will come soon, and come to stay; and so come as to be worth the keeping in all future time.—Lincoln.

Innocent.

"Clifford," asked the teacher, "who wrote the Junius letters?" "I—I don't know, ma'am," answered the terrified little boy. "I didn't!"

A Great Mistake.

"Parents make a great mistake in not insuring the general education of the child who is destined to become a concert performer," says Emil Sauer.

New Material for Paper.

It has been found that good paper can be made from the lalang grass of Malaysia.

Choose Your Company Wisely.

No man can be provident of his time who is not prudent in the choice of his company.—Jeremy Taylor.

Old Catholic Motto.

In truth of faith, unity; in matters of opinion, liberty; in all things, charity.

Have to Get in the Way of Them.

Few things come to the man who doesn't take the trouble to make it easy to find him.

Abstinence Among Soldiers.

The English army now has 44,000 total abstainers.

Semi-Solution.

Half the secret of happiness is to forget the unpleasant things. The other half is not to be found out.—Life.

Anthems Sung During Year.

In York (Eng.) Minister 600 anthems are sung in the course of the year.

Hides of Cow and Horse.

The hide of a cow weighs about 35 pounds, but that of a horse is about half that amount.
